

Orlando Mold Can Affect Your Health in the following ways: skin irritation, eye irritation, nasal problems, cough, headaches, and runny nose. People who are immune suppressed will feel these effects greater and also be at risk for infections. Certain types of mold species or more dangerous than others. If you feel like your house is making you or your family sick, you should contact the family physician and then call a certified mold company.